Verbal and Social Assessment: This section is for parents to evaluate and determine competency.

Language and Listening: Is your child able to attentively listen for short periods of time, such as reading a book before bedtime, time without interruption? Can he/she speak in full sentences? Can they follow instructions and do as they are told?

Independence: Is your child able to complete basic day to day actions on his or her own? (ie: using restroom, tying shoes, putting on coat, etc)

Social: Have you noticed your child interacting positively with other children? Can he/she share, compromise and work as a team with others? Do they keep their hands to themselves and control their actions?

Drive: Does your child show an eagerness to learn new things? Go new places? Try new foods? Generally curious?

If you can answer yes to most of these, your child is doing well and on the right road to kindergarten!
